Crop Deadlines, Trade Shows and Industry Events

A Colorado potato beetle, characterized by its orange body with black longitudinal stripes, is shown crawling on a green leaf. A dotted line points from the text 'WE'RE TOAST.' to the beetle's head.

WE'RE TOAST.

SAID THE COLORADO POTATO BEETLE TO THE WIREWORM.

The one solution for the two toughest pests in potatoes.

Already renowned for providing true wireworm control in-furrow, Cimegra[®] insecticide is now registered for foliar use on Colorado potato beetles. Powered by the unique IRAC Group 30 mode of action, it provides rapid knockdown and control you can count on. And Cimegra works through both contact and ingestion. In other words, the only thing chewing pests end up biting is the dust. Visit agsolutions.ca/Cimegra to learn more.

GREENTRONICS

Make your farm equipment more intelligent & accurate

- Fits most harvesters
- Data sharing and real-time mapping with AgLeader, Climate FieldView, John Deere, & Trimble displays
- Options: ISOBUS VT, auto tilt compensation, crop temperature recording & mapping.
- Tilt sensor for angled conveyors, hilly Fields
- A Yield Monitor offers many benefits on its own. It is also a key item in our fully on-line RiteTracePro Field-to-Storage mapping and reporting system.
